

BOBBY C LEWIS

PROFILE

Bobby Lewis is simply driven by seeing people achieve their full potential. He carries enthusiasm and vision to his team and has a way to get people excited about desired outcomes. He has been in and surrounded by manufacturing his entire life. After serving an LDS mission in Argentina he returned home and studied business at Utah State University. He fell in love with manufacturing and creating processes to minimize waste. He has been committed to building the woodworking industry for many years now and will continue to do so. He sees clearly that a business is only as successful as the people that run it and feels super passionate about bringing out every ounce of creativity in the team.
